Analysis

The index rose yesterday, closing at 10,050, some stocks witnessed a minor entry signal (like AUTO) while most of the stocks are still in their declining phase.

Our short-term entry signal is a break above 10,250; those who want to enter earlier should be very picky and conservative. Our overall view is still bearish despite yesterday's rise and we believe that short-term rises should be considered as a chance to reduce exposure.

Small Caps Index/ EGX 70

Analysis

The EGX 70 index, as we mentioned yesterday, looks better than blue chips, especially with the higher low that it witnessed.

If it breaks beyond the falling wedge, the index should reach the first peak that lies at 1,900.

We have a new stop at 1,725 which is the bottom of the higher low formation; this will be an earlier stop if the index falls from here.

Those who want to trade small caps are recommended to go for those that are outperforming.

Resistance

AUTO

Closed at 3.2 after breaking 3.08 to the upside. AUTO triggered an entry signal with a target around 3.6. Those who want to step in can buy intraday declines with a stop below 2.95

ACGC

Broke 1.43 to the upside and still looks good despite its recent rise. The stock has a support at 1.4. Our target lies around 1.65.

Support

No stocks broke their support yesterday.

Testing

Support

EAST

EAST should witness a rebound from the 10.5; if this rise takes place, resistance will be set around 12. On the other hand, position holders are recommended to place their stop below 10.2.

Resistance

MNHD

A break above 2.3 will lead MNHD to 2.6, which is an important resistance to watch. Short-term investors can trade this range, while longer-term investors can wait for the 2.6 breakout.

EGTS

If the stock trades above 1.6, an important breakout will take place, which will take EGTS to higher levels. Our target will be set around 2.

--------	----------------	------	---------------	---------------	----------------	----------------	----------------	-----------

N.B. please note that the levels are too close as these trading opportunities only suit T+0 speculators

The prices that are accompanied by a green arrow in the above table show resistance levels. Thus, a break above these levels will pave the way to achieve one (or all) of the targets.

The area between buying area 1 and buying area 2 is a trading area.

Tips on reading the report

The first page includes an analysis of two major indices in the Egyptian Stock Market; the norm is that we will analyze both the EGX 30 and 70, but sometimes we will compare the EGX 30 to its 50 counterpart if there is important information in this comparison. We also use the Hermes Last Index interchangeably with the EGX 30. The .HRMSL index has an important edge; it uses last prices instead of VWAP. First thing our clients should do is to read the indices analysis carefully to have a clear understanding on our overall view.

The second page includes stocks that broke out beyond their resistance levels, and those that violated their support levels. It also includes stocks that are testing their support levels and those that are testing their resistance. This analysis is important and it is the core of our recommendations. It is important to note though that not all stocks that are testing their support levels are bullish, and not all that are testing their resistance levels are bearish. To make it easier for our clients, we have placed a bull face 🐂 if we consider the stock under study bullish, and a bear face 🐻 if we consider it bearish. We also added a big bullet 📌 if we are neutral.

It is important to note that you might find a stock that we consider bullish in our analysis (in the breakouts/testing section) but it remains as a hold or partial sell in the table. The conflict here is that the table is more conservative. This will not be an issue with our clients, because our analysis will explain why we are being bullish/bearish on the stock.
